

All Saints, Hérault

The English Church at Saint Pargoire
A Chaplaincy of the Church of England Diocese in Europe

Link Agreement between

Fenoarivo Parish, Diocese of Toliara, Madagascar

and

All Saints, Hérault, France, Diocese in Europe

'... we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually we are members one of another.' (Romans 12:5)

We are two parishes very different from each other: but we are united by our wish to share our love of the Lord Jesus. The purposes of the link between our two churches are (a) to understand each other better, our challenges and our joys and (b) to give mutual support in our common mission. To this end we commit ourselves to the following.

- To pray for each other regularly, individually and in our formal intercessions at each service.
- To get to know each other as people and churches, by telephone calls or messaging between church members at least once per month and between church leaders at least once per year.
- To keep each other informed about developments in our churches, good or bad.
- To see the two churches as equal partners, to learn from and to bless each other.
